- Information that may be relevant to the adviser's character, including certain criminal convictions, bankruptcy, any adverse findings by a court against the adviser in a professional capacity, and whether the adviser has been expelled from, or prohibited from joining, a professional body; and
- Any relationships likely to give rise to a conflict of interest.

The adviser must also tell you about fees and remuneration before giving you advice about an investment. The information about fees and remuneration must include:

- The nature and level of the fees you will be charged for receiving the advice; and
- Whether the adviser will or may receive a commission or other benefit from advising you.

An investment adviser commits an offence if he or she does not provide you with the information required.

RIGHTS ISSUE OVERVIEW AND KEY DATES

The Company is offering 617,887,310 ordinary shares by way of a 1 for 1 pro-rata renounceable rights issue ("Rights Issue") to Shareholders with a registered address in New Zealand or Australia recorded on the Company's share register at 7:00 pm AEST, 27 June 2011 ("Eligible Shareholders"). Eligible Shareholders will be entitled to subscribe for 1 New Share for every 1 Existing Share held at a subscription price of A$0.013 per New Share ("Issue Price"). The number of New Shares which an Eligible Shareholder is entitled to subscribe for is set out in their personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form which accompanies this Offer Document. The Issue Price is payable in full on application. New Zealand resident Shareholders may alternatively pay in New Zealand dollars at a price of NZ$0.017 per New Share (based on an exchange rate fixed by Neuren of NZ$1.00 equals $0.7651 Australian dollars).

The proceeds from the Rights Issue will be used to fund corporate overhead and operating costs through 2012 when Neuren expects to have completed the two ongoing Phase 2 trials of NNZ-2566 and Motiva®. Proceeds also will be used to expand opportunities for NNZ-2566, Motiva® and other development programmes wherever possible.

Entitlements to New Shares pursuant to the Rights Issue ("Rights") are Renounceable. This enables Eligible Shareholders who do not wish to subscribe for some or all of their Entitlement to New Shares under the Rights Issue to sell their respective Rights. Rights trading commences on ASX on 21 June 2011 and will cease trading on 7 July 2011. Eligible Shareholders who do not exercise or sell their Entitlement will receive no value for their Rights. In accordance with ASX Listing Rules the Company has arranged to issue the Rights that Overseas Shareholders would otherwise have been entitled to exercise (the "Overseas Rights") to a nominee who will endeavour to sell the Overseas Rights, hold the proceeds on trust, and account to the Overseas Shareholders for the proceeds on a pro rata basis net of costs.

Eligible Shareholders who do not currently hold a marketable parcel of securities may wish to take this opportunity to increase their holding of Shares in the Company to a marketable parcel, either by accepting their Entitlement or, if further Shares are required to amount to a marketable parcel, buying Rights on the ASX market. A marketable parcel of securities under the ASX Listing Rules is a parcel of securities with a value of not less than A$500.

CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

Dear Shareholder,

In early May and June 2011 Neuren completed share placements amounting to A$2 million to sophisticated and professional investors ("the Placements"). This Offer is being made to give Eligible Shareholders the opportunity to acquire New Shares at the same price as Shares issued in those Placements.

Accordingly, Neuren is making this pro-rata rights issue offer of up to 617,887,310 new ordinary shares to its New Zealand and Australian resident Shareholders, at NZ$0.017 per New Share for New Zealand resident Shareholders (based on an exchange rate fixed by Neuren of NZ$1.00 equals $0.7651 Australian dollars) and A$0.013 per New Share for Australian resident Shareholders. New Zealand resident Shareholders may alternatively pay A$0.013 per New Share by subscribing in Australian dollars. This Offer is not underwritten.

Approximately 265,889,541 of the New Shares are being offered to New Zealand resident Shareholders, and this Investment Statement and Prospectus is required under New Zealand securities laws in order to make the Offer to New Zealand resident Shareholders. The exact number of New Shares being offered to New Zealand resident Shareholders will be determined on the Record Date based on the offer ratio of one New Share for every one existing Share held by New Zealand resident Shareholders. Neuren is taking advantage of exemptions under Australian securities laws which means that a prospectus or disclosure document is not required in Australia for the purpose of making the Offer to Australian resident Shareholders. However the terms of the Offer are the same for all Shareholders in Australia and New Zealand.

Your Entitlement to New Shares is set out in the enclosed Entitlement and Acceptance Form, and instructions on how to apply for your Entitlement are set out on pages 6 and 7 and in the Investment Statement on pages 17 to 19.

Neuren now has two Phase 2 clinical trials underway with NNZ-2566 and Motiva®, and proof of concept in vivo animal model testing is about to commence in our cancer programme with the three selected monoclonal antibodies targeting Trefoil Factors. These programmes are to a large extent funded by other parties. NNZ-2566 has been in development as a treatment for traumatic brain injury (TBI) under a collaborative research and development agreement between Neuren and the US Army since 2004 and the US Army has committed approximately US$22 million to support the NNZ-2566 programme. Similarly, the current Motiva® trial is being funded by a A$824,000 grant from the National Health and Medical Research Council to the University of Western Australia, and the New Zealand Breast Cancer Research Trust continues to be a supportive partner in funding the cancer programme through our subsidiary, Perseis Therapeutics.

Further details on the status of our pipeline are set out in the "Prospects" section on pages 8 to 12.

The proceeds from the Rights Issue will be used to fund corporate overhead and operating costs through 2012 when we expect to have completed the two ongoing Phase 2 trials of NNZ-2566 and Motiva®. Proceeds also will be used to expand opportunities for NNZ-2566, Motiva® and other development programmes wherever possible.

The Board recommends this Offer to you and thanks Shareholders for their continued support of the Company.

Yours sincerely

Dr Robin Congreve
Chairman

ACTION TO BE TAKEN BY ELIGIBLE SHAREHOLDERS

The Entitlement and Acceptance Form (which accompanies this Offer Document) sets out the number of Rights to which you are entitled.

The Rights are Renounceable which means that Eligible Shareholders who do not wish to take up all of their Entitlements may subscribe for only those Rights they wish to acquire, and renounce and sell the balance. Those Rights may be traded on the ASX from 21 June 2011 to 7 July 2011 (being the "Rights Trading Period").

If you are interested in acquiring more New Shares than the number set out in the Entitlement and Acceptance Form enclosed with this Offer Document, you may buy further Rights on the ASX market.

Listed below are the steps to be taken if you wish to:

- Accept your Entitlement in full; or
- Sell your Entitlement in full; or
- Accept part of your Entitlement and sell the balance.

How to accept your Entitlement in full

If you want to accept ALL of your Entitlement, you should:

- Complete the enclosed Entitlement and Acceptance Form; and
- Send your completed Entitlement and Acceptance Form together with your cheque (or bank draft if paying in Australian dollars) made payable to "Neuren Pharmaceuticals Limited Trust Account" and crossed "Not Transferable" for the amount of the acceptance money shown on your Entitlement and Acceptance Form, to:

Neuren Pharmaceuticals Limited
PO Box 9923
Newmarket 1149
Auckland

The completed Entitlement and Acceptance Form and payment must be received by the Company not later than 5.00pm 14 July 2011.

How to sell your Entitlement in full

If you want to sell ALL of your Entitlement, your Rights may be sold on the ASX through a share broker. If you wish to sell ALL of that Entitlement you should instruct your broker to sell the number of Rights specified on your Entitlement and Acceptance Form.

Rights may only be traded in the Rights Trading Period.

It is not certain that you will be able to sell your Rights. This will depend on the share trading price, volume of Rights offered for sale and purchase and the price at which you are seeking to sell your Rights.

If you wish to sell your Rights, you must do so before Rights trading ceases on 7 July 2011.

How to accept part of your Entitlement only

If you wish to take up part of your Entitlement and sell the balance of that Entitlement on the ASX through a broker, you should:

- Instruct your broker to sell the number of Rights you wish to renounce;
- Complete the enclosed Entitlement and Acceptance Form for the number of New Shares you wish to accept;
- Calculate the "Application Monies Enclosed" (NZ$ or A$) as the amount payable based on the Issue Price per New Share (NZ$0.017 or A$0.013) multiplied by the number of New Shares you wish to accept from your Entitlement, and rounded up to the nearest cent; and
- Send your completed Entitlement and Acceptance Form, together with your cheque (or bank draft if paying in Australian dollars) for payment in full for the number of New Shares you have decided to accept directly to:

The Share Offer
Neuren Pharmaceuticals Limited
PO Box 9923
Newmarket 1149
Auckland

If you wish to sell any of your Rights, you must do so before Rights trading ceases on 7 July 2011.

If a renunciation and an acceptance are given by a Shareholder in relation to the same Rights, effect shall be given to the renunciation in priority to the acceptance.

Method of payment for New Shares

Cheques should be made payable to "Neuren Pharmaceuticals Limited Trust Account" and crossed "Not Transferable". Please do NOT send any cash. Receipts for payment will not be issued.

Payment will be accepted in Australian or New Zealand currency as follows:

- Personal cheque drawn on and payable at any New Zealand bank (New Zealand dollars);
- Bank cheque issued by and payable at any New Zealand bank (New Zealand dollars); or
- Bank draft drawn on and payable at any New Zealand bank (New Zealand or Australian dollars).

If you do nothing, you will not get any New Shares. The Directors recommend that you accept all or part of your Entitlement, particularly if your current shareholding is not a marketable parcel and by accepting your Entitlement or buying further Rights your shareholding will amount to a marketable parcel. However, if you wish to sell any of your Rights, you must do so before Rights trading ceases on 7 July 2011.

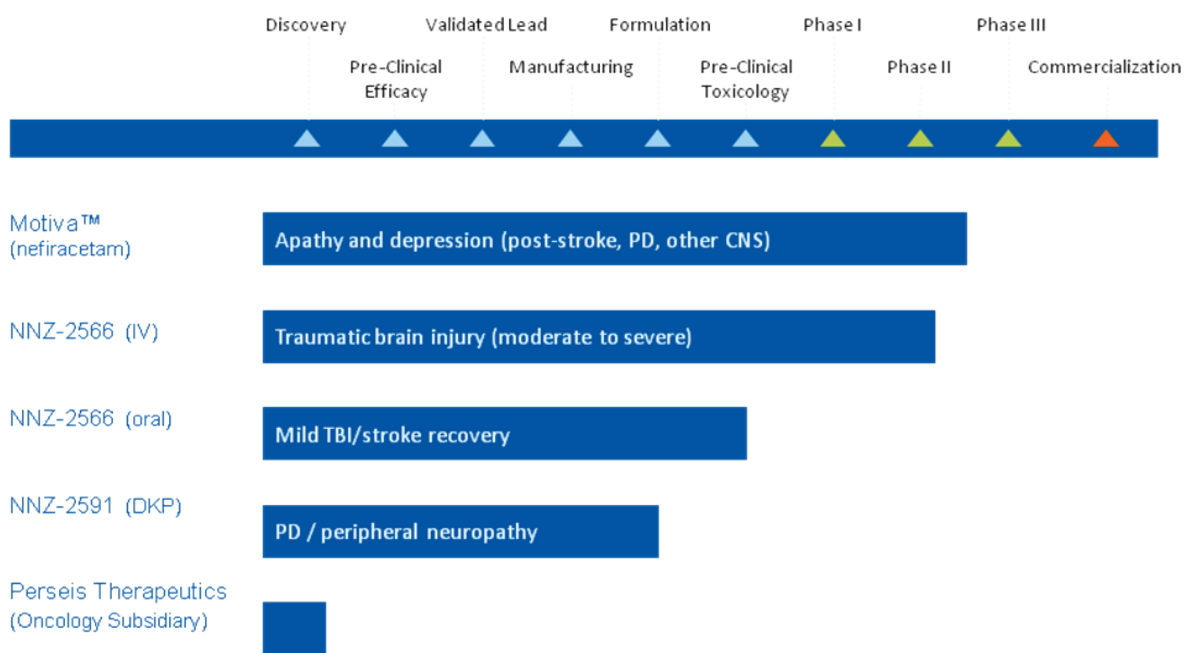

PROSPECTS

Overview

Neuren is an ASX listed biopharmaceutical company developing new drugs for neurological disorders and cancer. In neurology, the Company’s compounds are either derived from naturally-occurring proteins that prevent brain damage by protecting cells from inflammation or synthetic compounds designed to support the normal function of brain cells. The cancer programme, which is managed by Neuren’s subsidiary Perseis Therapeutics Limited, focuses on breast and other cancers by targeting proteins produced by cancer cells that cause uncontrolled growth, spread and resistance to chemotherapy. In both neurology and cancer, the indications that we are targeting represent significant unmet need and commercial opportunity. Virtually all of the direct costs of the neurology programmes are covered by grants — US$22.8 million from the US Army and A$823,000 from the Australian National Health and Medical Research Council. The R&D costs of the cancer programme are covered by a NZ$1.18 million equity investment in Perseis by the New Zealand Breast Cancer Research Trust.

Product Pipeline

Our lead product candidates include two compounds — NNZ-2566 and Motiva® — in clinical trials, one compound — NNZ-2591 — in preclinical development and a discovery-stage programme in cancer. The following exhibit summarizes our product candidate pipeline. However, there can be no assurance that we will be able to develop, complete development or commercialise any of the following product candidates on a timely basis or at all.

NNZ-2566

NNZ-2566 is a synthetic analogue of the n-terminal tripeptide of IGF-1, a neuroprotective molecule produced by the brain following injury. NNZ-2566 is in a Phase 2 trial in patients with moderate to severe traumatic brain injury (TBI). The first clinical trial site at the University of Miami became active in late April 2010 and enrolled the first patient in early June 2010. Eleven sites in the United States are actively screening patients. Including both the Phase 1 safety studies and the Phase 2 trial, NNZ-2566 has now been administered to approximately 80 people. To this point, the drug has been well-tolerated and the excellent safety profile developed in preclinical and Phase 1 studies appears to be carrying over to patients. The independent Data Safety and Monitoring Committee (DSMC) has reviewed safety data on cohort 1 and recommended progression to cohort 2. Enrolment of patients into cohort 2 is underway.

Patient enrolment had been expected to begin slowly and to ramp up as new sites were added and study investigators became more familiar with the protocol. However, the rate at which enrolment increased during cohort 1 was below expectations. This slower than anticipated pace resulted primarily from competing clinical trials (two large trials of progesterone in TBI patients) and the challenge of obtaining informed consent from a family member (Legally Authorised Representative — LAR) within the established time window. To date, approximately 40% of otherwise eligible patients were not enrolled due to the unavailability of an LAR. Only four eligible patients have not been enrolled because an LAR declined consent. In response, the Company is increasing the total number of sites from 12 to 18, expanding the eligible age range from 18-70 years to 16-75 years, and seeking exception from informed consent (EFIC) under FDA and Institutional Review Board (IRB) guidance. EFIC will allow investigators to enrol patients if an LAR is not present prior to the scheduled start of drug administration. Approximately 15% of patients screened have been between 16-18 or 70-75 years old. Three new sites in the US are nearing activation and 5 centres in Australia have been selected to participate. The costs associated with increasing the number of participating clinical centres and obtaining EFIC will be covered by an additional US$1.6 million in incremental funding from the US Army. This brings the total commitment to approximately US$22.8 million, comprising US$18.8 million awarded directly to Neuren and US$4 million awarded through the Geneva Foundation.

The Phase 1 safety and PK study in females reinforced the excellent safety profile of NNZ-2566. With successful completion of the Phase 1 safety and PK study in females, we submitted a revised protocol to the FDA, the US Army's Human Research Protection Office (HRPO) and Neuren's IRB to include female patients in the trial. The amended protocol has been accepted by FDA and approved by the Company's IRB and we expect to begin enrolling female patients in cohort 2. Approximately 25% of patients screened in the study have been female. We are confident that the measures outlined above will significantly increase the pace of enrolment to at least that of the original plan. We are now forecasting that enrolment will be completed and results announced by the end of 2012.

The Company also has begun work on the studies and other tasks that will be necessary to initiate a Phase 3 trial with the intravenous formulation. These include additional safety pharmacology studies, reproductive toxicology studies and a cardiovascular safety study. Funding for these activities is included in the grant from the US Army. The additional safety studies include analysis of protein binding, liver enzyme (Cytochrome P-450) inhibition and interaction with transporter molecules. The safety studies have all been completed and confirm that there are no safety or toxicity related concerns in these areas. The feasibility study in rats conducted in preparation for the reproductive toxicology studies also has been completed and, again, the results show that the drug is safe and well-tolerated at doses well above those being administered during the trial. The reproductive toxicology studies are scheduled to be initiated later this year.

Undertaking these studies in parallel with the Phase 2 trials has enabled us to develop a plan to accelerate late-stage clinical development with the goal of initiating a Phase 3 trial almost immediately following the Phase 2, if the results from the Phase 2 trial are positive, with most of the regulatory requirements for a pivotal trial already met. The Company is engaged in discussions with potential partners and expects that the outcome of those discussions will become clear around the time that the Phase 2 trial is completed. We believe that the accelerated clinical development strategy adds significant value to the programme. Our plan is to evaluate NNZ-2566 as an intravenous treatment for moderate to severe TBI concurrently with oral administration of the drug in patients with mild TBI. To the best of our knowledge, this is the first programme to address TBI as a single indication across all degrees of severity. Mild and moderate TBI represent the vast majority of cases and often are associated with significant cognitive and other disabilities.

Neuren also has initiated an oral formulation development programme for NNZ-2566. In a paper published by Neuren scientists and colleagues², NNZ-2566 administered orally three hours following an experimental stroke in rats significantly reduced brain damage. Studies conducted in late 2010 and completed in early 2011 show that a simple water-based (aqueous) formulation provides effective blood levels of the drug sooner after administration and is not affected by food intake. This is a very important development for a number of reasons:

- An aqueous product can be shipped and stored as a powder for reconstitution with water which will make it more suitable for use outside of a hospital in indications such as mild TBI for which intravenous delivery is not appropriate, as well as reduce manufacturing costs and improve shelf life.
- Development and validation of an aqueous formulation will require less time and lower R&D expenditures.
- Because NNZ-2566 is highly soluble in water, the total volume per dose will be lower which should reduce the risk of nausea and vomiting that can be a problem for patients with mild TBI and other neurological conditions.

² Bickerdike et al. NNZ-2566: A Gly-Pro-Glu analogue with neuroprotective efficacy in a rat model of acute focal stroke. Journal of the Neurological Sciences 2009.

- The bridging toxicology studies will be simpler, focused predominantly on gastrointestinal effects, and the overall toxicity profile for an oral form will largely be defined by data already submitted to the FDA from previously completed intravenous studies.
- Simple aqueous solutions are generally more suitable for formulation into a solid dosage form such as tablets or capsules.

We are currently planning to complete the required toxicology and Phase 1 safety/PK studies for the oral formulation by and to submit a protocol for a Phase 2 clinical trial in patients with mild TBI by the end of 2011. This Phase 2 trial is currently being designed in coordination with an advisory committee comprising academic experts and regulatory advisors and including input from US Army neuroscientists. Mild TBI represents a serious public health problem and a very large market with more than 800,000 cases per year in the US alone. With more than 70% of military TBI classified as mild, it also is a very high priority for the US Army which has provided US$2.9 million in additional funding to support the oral development programme. An oral formulation for use in patients with mild TBI also would be applicable to other indications where oral dosing is preferable. These might include Rett Syndrome and other autism spectrum disorders, prophylactic neuroprotection following a stroke or transient ischaemic attack and prevention of hearing loss caused by chemotherapy or certain antibiotics.

The preclinical and Phase 1 safety studies with NNZ-2566 that led to approval of the IND and the current trial also enable potential use of the drug in conditions unrelated to TBI. One such indication is Rett Syndrome, a very severe and the most physically disabling form of the autism spectrum disorders. There is no approved drug for Rett Syndrome which occurs in approximately 1 of 10,000 female children worldwide. Rett Syndrome is caused by a mutation in a gene designated MeCP2. Different mutations in that gene also are believed to be associated with other autism spectrum and related developmental disorders. Researchers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology have discovered that the n-terminal tripeptide of IGF-1 (Glypromate) partially reverses symptoms in a mouse model of Rett Syndrome³. Any treatment for Rett Syndrome in humans would be life long and an oral formulation would clearly be the most desirable means of administering a drug. Since NNZ-2566 is an analogue of Glypromate and has been shown to be orally available and active, we are presently evaluating whether NNZ-2566 offers promise as a therapy for Rett Syndrome. To that end, we established a research collaboration with the Rett Syndrome Research Trust (RSRT; <http://rsrt.org>) to evaluate NNZ-2566 in an established mouse model. This evaluation was conducted at no cost to Neuren and we retain all rights to the use of NNZ-2566 in this field. Preliminary results from a single dose study have shown an improvement in survival and long-term potentiation, a measure of signal transmission between neurons that is associated with memory. If these results are confirmed and once the most effective dose has been identified, the Company will seek to develop NNZ-2566 for Rett Syndrome with grant funding or through a commercial partnership. We are in active discussions with a number of third parties concerning establishment of a collaborative or licensing agreement.

Motiva®

In late 2007, Neuren acquired rights to Motiva® (nefiracetam) through the purchase of Hamilton Pharmaceuticals. Motiva® is a molecule that belongs to a class of compounds called acetams, which includes approved drugs with sales of approximately A$1.3 billion in 2010. Motiva® has already been tested in over 1,700 patients in Phase 1, 2 and 3 trials in Japan, the US and Canada and has an excellent safety profile. Motiva® has shown efficacy in a range of neuropsychiatric outcomes in six Phase 2 and 3 trials in post-stroke patients. In a Phase 2b trial in patients with post-stroke depression conducted in the US and Canada under a US IND, a very significant effect was observed in patients who also were diagnosed with apathy using the validated Apathy Scale (51.1% of patients)⁴. The trial was the first randomised, placebo-controlled study to show a significant effect of a pharmacologic intervention on apathy in this population. The most severely depressed patients also showed a significant improvement in depressive symptoms although the effect across all patients was not statistically significant⁵.

Apathy is a dysmotivational syndrome that manifests as a lack of interest, feeling, emotion or concern. Symptoms include diminished initiation and poor persistence of activity, lack of interest, indifference, low social engagement and blunted emotional responses. Although apathy has long been documented in the medical literature, due to accelerating research in the 1990s, it is now becoming widely recognized as a common neuropsychiatric disorder distinguishable from cognitive disorders such as dementia and mood disorders such as depression in much the same way that depression and anxiety have become diagnosable and pharmacologically addressable disorders. Apathy frequently occurs in patients who have had a stroke or traumatic brain injury as well as in those with chronic progressive neurodegenerative conditions such as Alzheimer's and Parkinson's disease. Apathy also complicates a broad range of other CNS conditions including depression, schizophrenia, brain tumours and infection. Taken together, it has been estimated that Apathy Syndrome affects some 10 million people in the US alone.

Patient Population	Prevalence of Apathy
Stroke	35%
Traumatic Brain Injury	50%
Alzheimer's disease	55%
Cognitive Impairment	40%
Major Depression	20%
Schizophrenia	67%
Parkinson's disease	40%

Apathy can have a devastating impact on social and occupational function. With moderate to severe apathy, patients become unable to conduct activities of daily living involving basic functions like bathing, dressing, eating, getting in or out of bed or chairs, walking and using the toilet. The clinical consequences of apathy result in longer hospitalizations, poorer rehabilitation outcomes, greater disability, earlier institutionalization and increased caregiver stress. Not surprisingly, apathy has been associated with both a poor outcome of illness and a poor response to treatment. The economic and emotional consequences of apathy are burdensome not only to patients and caregivers but also to society. During the past two decades, generally accepted diagnostic criteria have evolved for apathy. Apathy rating scales have also been created and validated in various neurological and psychiatric populations, including major depression, Alzheimer's disease, stroke and Parkinson's disease.

Despite the high prevalence of apathy, current treatment options are limited, as there are no FDA-approved drugs for this disorder. At present, some physicians use stimulants (methylphenidate and dextroamphetamine) off-label despite limited evidence of efficacy. Dopamine agonists have also been proposed for the treatment of apathy, especially in Parkinson's disease patients, but again with limited data and no randomized, placebo-controlled trials. Acetylcholinesterase inhibitors have been used to treat apathy in patients with Alzheimer's disease, albeit with limited success. Commonly occurring adverse effects further limit use of these drugs.

In March 2010, we announced that a Phase 2 trial of Motiva® in 122 patients with post-stroke apathy had been funded by a grant to Prof. Sergio Starkstein, MD, PhD, Winthrop Professor and Head of the Neuropsychiatry Unit at Fremantle Hospital, Perth. The grant was awarded by the National Health and Medical Research Council (Australia) and covers virtually all costs associated with the study. From existing supplies of drug and placebo, we confirmed the stability of the product, re-packaged it for storage and distribution by the hospital pharmacy and shipped the drug to the University of Western Australia for use in the trial. The study has now been initiated and patients are being actively recruited and enrolled. A second clinical centre in Australia is in the process of initiating patient recruitment as well. If this study confirms the robust effect of Motiva® on post-stroke apathy, the Company believes that it will have an opportunity to enter into a beneficial commercial partnership to complete the pivotal trials necessary for registration of the drug for that indication.

NNZ-2591 is the lead compound in Neuren's diketopiperazine (DKP) programme. The DKPs are cyclic dipeptides derived from a naturally occurring neuroprotective protein produced by the brain in response to injury. NNZ-2591 is in preclinical development as an oral therapy for a number of chronic neurological conditions including peripheral neuropathy, Parkinson's disease and cognitive impairment. Results from preclinical models of these conditions indicate that NNZ-2591 is a highly promising compound. It also is 100% orally available and preliminary safety studies suggest that it has an excellent safety profile. Together, these features support further development for chronic conditions.

Cancer Research Programme

The Trefoil Factor (TFF) programme targeting breast and other cancers was assigned to Perseis Therapeutics, a Neuren subsidiary jointly established with the New Zealand Breast Cancer Research Trust (BCRT) in 2009. With initial funding of NZ$1.18 million from the BCRT, Perseis initiated a programme to develop and test monoclonal antibodies against a range of cancers, focusing predominantly on TFF-1 and TFF-3. Trefoil Factors are estrogen-regulated proteins secreted by cancer cells that act as growth factors in a number of cancers, promoting growth and spread of tumours. TFF-1 is expressed in up to 68% of breast cancers and its expression is negatively associated with survival in patients with metastatic disease. TFF-3 is strongly associated with tamoxifen resistance and inhibition of TFF-3 has been shown to be effective in treating tamoxifen resistant breast cancer cells in culture. Among patients treated with tamoxifen, survival is highly correlated with the level of TFF-3 expression. Tamoxifen is a widely used drug that blocks the growth-promoting effects of estrogen and is the world's leading hormonal drug for the treatment of breast cancer. Between 25% and 35% of women who take tamoxifen to prevent the recurrence of breast cancer fail to respond to the drug. This phenomenon creates a significant need and opportunity for a product that can reduce or prevent tamoxifen resistance.

In March 2010, we announced that a NZ$250,000 grant was awarded to Perseis by the New Zealand Foundation for Research, Science and Technology to support the trefoil factor programme. That additional funding has enabled Perseis to expand the scope of its research which has included antibody discovery at three separate institutions in Australia, Singapore and China as well as screening against a phage display library of fully human antibody fragments. Antibodies are first screened in vitro against established breast, gastric and other cancer cell lines to select the most promising molecules. The lead antibodies are then evaluated in animal models of cancer to validate the proof of concept of targeting TFFs as a cancer therapy. Once lead molecules have been selected and definitive proof of concept has been obtained, Perseis will have the option of seeking a partnership or continuing development on its own. Perseis is actively engaged in business development activities designed to raise the awareness of its targets and programme among potential partners. These efforts will be accelerated as we move toward the selection of lead molecules.

In the course of its antibody development programme Perseis has screened a large number of candidates from three pools of murine (mouse) antibodies produced in Australia, Singapore and China. However the lead antibodies to be taken into animal models originate from a human antibody fragment library. Initial screening of that library was conducted at the University of Queensland and further screening to determine which antibodies had the ability to inhibit the growth of human breast and gastric cancer cells growing in culture was conducted by Aragen Bioscience, Inc. in the United States. Fully human antibodies typically result in shorter and less expensive development and reduced risk of patient reactions to residual murine proteins in the finished drug product.

Monoclonal antibodies are the leading approach to molecular targeting, the fastest growing segment of biopharmaceuticals. Molecularly targeted drugs and biologics exhibit highly specific activity, often with better efficacy and fewer side effects than traditional drugs. In 2008, the global monoclonal antibody market was valued at US$27.4 billion with an annual growth rate of 30.8%. By 2016, six of the top ten billion dollar drugs are predicted to be monoclonal antibodies.

Purpose of the Offer and Use of Proceeds

The direct costs of the current clinical trial and cancer programmes are largely funded by grants and joint venture partners. In early May and June 2011 Neuren completed share placements amounting to A$2 million to sophisticated and professional investors ("the Placements"). This Offer is being made to give Eligible Shareholders the opportunity to acquire New Shares at the same price as Shares issued in the Placements. The proceeds of the Placements and this Offer will be used to fund corporate overhead and operating costs through 2012 when Neuren expects to have completed the two ongoing Phase 2 trials of NNZ-2566 and Motiva®. Proceeds also will be used to expand opportunities for NNZ-2566, Motiva® and other development programmes wherever possible.

Special Trade Factors and Risks

The general risks and special trade factors and risks which investors should consider before they make a decision whether or not to invest in the Company are set out under the heading "What are my risks?" on pages 20 to 22. Investors are reminded that a continuing risk facing the Company is that it may not be able to raise additional funding as and when needed in future. Further details on this risk are set out under the heading "Sufficiency of Funding" on page 21.

MAIN TERMS OF THE OFFER

The Offer

Neuren Pharmaceuticals Limited ("Neuren" or the "Company") is offering, on a renounceable basis, a maximum of 617,887,310 ordinary shares to the registered New Zealand and Australian resident holders of ordinary shares in the Company as at 27 June 2011 in the ratio of one new ordinary share ("New Share") for every one ordinary share held at that date ("Existing Share"), at a price of A$0.013 per New Share payable in full on application. New Zealand resident Shareholders may alternatively pay in New Zealand dollars at a price of NZ$0.017 per New Share (based on an exchange rate fixed by Neuren of NZ$1.00 equals $0.7651 Australian dollars). There is no consideration payable to the Company for the Rights.

Assuming this Offer is fully subscribed, the New Shares will represent 50.0% of Neuren's issued ordinary shares after allotment of the New Shares.

The New Shares will rank equally in all respects with the Company's Existing Shares. The Offer may be accepted in full or in part and there is no minimum level of Entitlement that must be accepted by a Shareholder in order to participate in the Offer.

Instructions on how to apply for the New Shares are set out under the headings "Action to be taken by Eligible Shareholders" on pages 6 and 7 and "How much do I pay?" on pages 17 to 19, and on the Entitlement and Acceptance Form itself.

An application will constitute an irrevocable offer by the applicant to acquire the number of New Shares specified in the application. If the full amount of the subscription monies payable for the New Shares subscribed for (the "Application Monies") is not paid on application or a cheque does not clear, an application may be rejected or an allocation cancelled.

The Offer is not underwritten and as this Offer is being made to give Eligible Shareholders the opportunity to acquire New Shares at the same price as Shares issued in placements to sophisticated and professional investors on 4 May 2011 and 2 and 3 June 2011, the Directors have not established a minimum amount which must be raised before the Directors will accept subscriptions and allot New Shares under this Offer.

Pursuant to ASX Listing Rule 7.2 the Directors reserve the right to place within three months after the close of the Offer any New Shares which are not taken up by Eligible Shareholders or holders of Rights under this Offer (the "Shortfall") to such persons and in such manner as the Directors consider equitable and in the interests of the Company, provided that the New Shares offered under the Shortfall are issued at not less than the price under the Offer and the terms and conditions of the issue of such New Shares are not materially more favourable to the persons to whom they are issued than the terms of this Offer.

Rights are renounceable

The Rights granted in respect of Existing Shares held on the Record Date are Renounceable, meaning that they may be sold or transferred by New Zealand and Australian resident Shareholders. However, the ability to trade Rights will be dependent on there being a demand from prospective purchasers of the Rights.

The Rights of Shareholders resident in other countries will be dealt with as set out below under the heading "Eligible Shareholders and Overseas Shareholders" below. Trading in Rights is expected to take place on the ASX from 21 June 2011 and close on 7 July 2011.

Eligible Shareholders and Overseas Shareholders

This Rights Issue is open only to Eligible Shareholders. Overseas Shareholders, being Shareholders with registered addresses outside New Zealand and Australia at 7:00 pm AEST on the Record Date, cannot participate in the Rights Issue. The Company is of the view that it is unreasonable to make the Offer to shareholders outside of New Zealand and Australia having regard to:

- the number of Shareholders outside of New Zealand and Australia;
 - the number and value of the securities that could be offered to Shareholders outside of New Zealand and Australia;
- and

- the cost of complying with the legal requirements and requirements of regulatory authorities in the overseas jurisdictions.

Accordingly, pursuant to ASX Listing Rule 7.7.1 (a) the Company is not required to make the Offer to Shareholders outside of New Zealand and Australia (though this Investment Statement and Prospectus may be sent to Shareholders outside these jurisdictions for information purposes only). ASX Listing Rule 7.7.1(c) requires that the Company arrange the sale of Rights that Overseas Shareholders would otherwise have been entitled to exercise ("Overseas Rights") and to account to Overseas Shareholders for the proceeds of this sale. To comply with this requirement, the Company will arrange to issue the Overseas Rights to a nominee who will endeavour to sell the Overseas Rights, hold the proceeds on trust, and account to Overseas Shareholders for the proceeds on a pro rata basis net of costs.

No Overseas Offers

This Investment Statement and Prospectus has been prepared in compliance with New Zealand securities laws for the purpose of making the Offer to New Zealand resident Shareholders only, and does not constitute an offer in any jurisdiction in which, or to any person to whom, it would be unlawful to make such an offer. Where this Investment Statement and Prospectus has been despatched to investors domiciled outside New Zealand and where that country's securities code and legislation requires registration, this Investment Statement and Prospectus is provided for information purposes only. Non resident investors should consult their professional advisers as to whether any governmental or other consents are required or whether formalities need to be observed to enable them to participate in the Shortfall.

Stock Exchange Listing

Application has been made to ASX for permission to list the Rights and the New Shares and all the requirements of ASX relating thereto that can be complied with on or before the date of this Investment Statement and Prospectus have been duly complied with. However, ASX accepts no responsibility for any statement in this Investment Statement and Prospectus. If the ASX does not grant permission for quotation of the Rights or the New Shares offered pursuant to this Investment Statement and Prospectus within three (3) months after the date of this Investment Statement and Prospectus, or such longer period as is permitted, none of the New Shares offered by this Investment Statement and Prospectus will be allotted or issued. In these circumstances, the Company will repay all Application Monies, without interest.

ASX is not defined as a "registered exchange" under New Zealand securities laws, and accordingly, for the purposes of New Zealand securities laws, the Rights and the New Shares have not been approved for trading on a "registered exchange". The Company will not seek listing of the Rights or the New Shares on the New Zealand Stock Exchange.

No guarantee or promise

Neither Neuren, its Directors, nor any person associated with this Offer, guarantees the New Shares or that a dividend will be paid on the New Shares or that the issue price of NZ$0.017 (or A$0.013) per New Share will be recouped. No amount of returns (whether by way of dividend or return on sale or otherwise) on the New Shares is promised or guaranteed by any person. Accordingly, the dates on which, or the frequency with which, returns (if any) on the New Shares will be due and paid are unknown.

Listed below are the steps to be taken if you wish to:

- Accept your Entitlement in full; or
- Sell your Entitlement in full; or
- Accept part of your Entitlement and sell the balance.

To accept all of your Entitlement

If you want to accept all of your Entitlement complete the Entitlement & Acceptance section of the Entitlement and Acceptance Form and send it and a cheque (or bank draft if paying in Australian dollars) made payable to: "Neuren Pharmaceuticals Limited Trust Account" and crossed "Not Transferable" to:

To sell your Entitlement in full

If you want to sell ALL of your Entitlement, your Rights may be sold on the ASX through a share broker. If you wish to sell ALL of that Entitlement you should instruct your broker to sell the number of Rights specified on your Entitlement and Acceptance Form.

Rights may only be traded in the Rights Trading Period.

It is not certain that you will be able to sell your Rights. This will depend on the share trading price, volume of Rights offered for sale and purchase and the price at which you are seeking to sell your Rights.

If you wish to sell your Rights, you must do so before Rights trading ceases on 7 July 2011.

To accept part of your Entitlement only

If you wish to take up part of your Entitlement and sell the balance of that Entitlement on the ASX through a broker, you should:

- Instruct your broker to sell the number of Rights you wish to renounce;
- Complete the enclosed Entitlement and Acceptance Form for the number of New Shares you wish to accept;
- Calculate the "Application Monies Enclosed" (NZ$ or A$) as the amount payable based on the Issue Price per New Share (NZ$0.017 or A$0.013) multiplied by the number of New Shares you wish to accept from your Entitlement, and rounded up to the nearest cent; and
- Send your completed Entitlement and Acceptance Form, together with your cheque for payment in full for the number of New Shares you have decided to accept directly to:

If a renunciation and an acceptance are given by a Shareholder in relation to the same Rights, effect shall be given to the renunciation in priority to the acceptance.

Method of payment for New Shares

Cheques should be made payable to "Neuren Pharmaceuticals Limited Trust Account" and crossed "Not Transferable". Please do NOT send any cash. Receipts for payment will not be issued.

Payment will be accepted as follows:

- Personal cheque drawn on and payable at any New Zealand bank (New Zealand dollars);
- Bank cheque issued by and payable at any New Zealand bank (New Zealand dollars); or
- Bank draft drawn on and payable at any New Zealand bank (New Zealand or Australian dollars).

If you do nothing, you will not get any New Shares. The Directors recommend that you accept all or part of your Entitlement. However, if you wish to sell any of your Rights, you must do so before Rights trading ceases on 7 July 2011.

Please note that if you do not accept all or part of your Entitlement in accordance with the instructions set out above, any Entitlement not accepted will form part of the Shortfall.

Please also note that post-dated cheques will not be accepted. If the full amount of the Application Monies is not paid upon application or a cheque does not clear, your application may be rejected or any allocation of New Shares made to you may be cancelled.

An application will constitute an irrevocable offer by you to acquire the number of New Shares specified, on the terms and conditions set out in this Investment Statement and Prospectus and the Entitlement and Acceptance Form. By submitting an application you agree to be bound by these terms and conditions and the Constitution. Applications cannot be revoked or withdrawn and Application Monies (except in the case of Entitlement over-subscription as noted on page 15) will not, therefore, be refunded. You should note that the Board reserves the right to extend the Offer and that such extension may result in the dates referred to in the table on page 4 of this Investment Statement and Prospectus being altered. Any such changes will be advised through the ASX companies announcements platform.

This Offer is being made to give Eligible Shareholders the opportunity to acquire New Shares at the same price as Shares issued in placements to sophisticated and professional investors on 4 May 2011 and 2 and 3 June 2011. Accordingly, the Directors have not established a minimum amount which must be raised before the Directors will accept subscriptions and allot New Shares under this Offer.

What are the charges?

There are no charges payable by subscribers for the New Shares in addition to the subscription price. All expenses in respect of this Offer are being met by the Company.

The sale or purchase of the Rights and/or Shares on ASX is likely to attract brokerage fees and charges.

The Company estimates that its costs in respect of the Offer will be NZ$65,000 plus GST.

What returns will I get?

Sale of Rights

The return (if any) from selling Rights will depend on the price for which they are sold (if they are sold), which will depend on the price of the Rights as quoted on the ASX when they are sold, and there being demand from prospective purchasers of the Rights. There is no guarantee that the Rights will have any value or that they will be able to be sold. The person legally liable to pay the returns (if any) on the sale of Rights will be the person who purchases the Rights.

Dividends

New Shares issued as a result of this Offer will rank equally in all respects, including as to dividends and voting entitlements, with the Existing Shares on issue at the time of allotment. Shareholders will be entitled to receive or benefit from any dividends paid by the Company in respect of New Shares and to any other returns attaching to the New Shares. However, the Company is not intending to pay dividends in the foreseeable future, given that it is intended that the Company will use all available funds for its clinical development and research programmes. Subject to the usual legal relationships as between brokers and clients, the Company is the person legally liable to pay any dividends declared by the Directors.

Sale of New Shares

Shareholders may benefit from any increase in the market price of their New Shares if they sell them, however the market price of the New Shares may also decline. Factors which may have an influence on the share price of Neuren ordinary shares and, consequently, on returns from the sale of New Shares include:

- prevailing share market conditions;
- general economic conditions;
- interest rate rises or reductions;
- significant changes in the operations or results of Neuren;
- a sale of a significant parcel of Neuren ordinary shares;
- a take-over offer by a third party; and
- the risks described in this Investment Statement under the heading "What are my risks?" below.

The person legally liable to pay the returns (if any) on the sale of New Shares will be the person who purchases the New Shares.

Taxation

Your return from the Rights or New Shares may be affected by taxes or changes to taxation laws. In certain circumstances, gains on the sale of Rights or New Shares may be taxable. Generally, where shares are acquired as an investment, New Zealand resident shareholders will not be taxed on gains from a subsequent sale of shares unless the sale is part of a share investment business, the shareholder is in the business of dealing in such investments or acquired the shares with the purpose (or dominant purpose if there is more than one purpose) of sale, or where the sale is part of a profit making undertaking or scheme. These comments, and the descriptions referred to, are of a general nature. They do not constitute legal or financial advice. You should contact your own financial or legal adviser to seek advice concerning the tax consequences of owning or selling Rights or New Shares in view of your own particular circumstances.

No guarantee or promise

Neither Neuren, its Directors, nor any person associated with this Offer, guarantees the New Shares or that a dividend will be paid on the New Shares or that the issue price of NZ$0.017 (or A$0.013) per New Share will be recouped. No amount of returns on the Rights or on the New Shares (whether by way of dividend or return on sale or otherwise) is promised or guaranteed by any person. Accordingly, the dates on which, or the frequency with which, returns (if any) on the Rights or the New Shares will be due and paid are unknown.

What are my risks?

General risk factors

Investments in biopharmaceutical companies can be considered speculative. Risks associated with investment in the Company include risks of a general nature relating to investment in shares and securities generally where the company invested in has a small market capitalisation together with risks particular to investment in the Company, which risks relate to the nature of its activities, being biotechnology research and development.

Investors in the Company will also be subject to normal risks relating to the general levels of economic activity and macro-economic factors beyond the control of the Company including share market conditions which may affect the share market and share prices generally. General risk factors which may have an influence on the share price are described above under the heading "What returns will I get?" and the occurrence of such events, or the specific risk factors detailed below, could result in investors in the Company being unable to recover, or receive any returns on their investment.

Specific risk factors

There are a number of specific risks that may affect Neuren's operating performance and, consequently, the value of its Shares and returns on the New Shares. Key risks which may affect the value of the New Shares and returns on the New Shares are as follows:

- Reliance on Key Personnel – Neuren currently employs a number of key management and scientific personnel, and in part its future depends on retaining and attracting suitably qualified personnel. Failure to do so could materially adversely affect its business, operating results and financial prospects.
- Contract Risks Generally – Neuren operates through a series of contractual relationships with licensors, sub-licensees, independent contractors, distributors and suppliers. All contracts carry risks associated with the performance by the parties thereto of their obligations as to time and quality of work performed.
- Risk as to Technical Capacity – Neuren intends to carry out development work using appropriately chosen scientific research organisations. As such, it will be subject to the risk that staff in those organisations may have lesser technical capacity than needed to achieve the results sought to be obtained from any development programme and the results sought to be obtained may not be obtained or results apparently obtained may be inaccurate as a result of flawed research or development.
- Intellectual Property and Proprietary Rights – Neuren regards the content of certain of its technology as proprietary and relies primarily on a combination of copyright, patent and trade secrecy laws and employee and third party non-disclosure agreements to protect its rights. However, no assurances can be given that employees and/or third parties will not breach non-disclosure agreements or infringe or misappropriate Neuren's intellectual property and proprietary rights. Further, no assurance can be given that others will not challenge the ownership or validity of those rights by attacking either Neuren or patent holders from whom it has acquired licenses. Litigation may be necessary from time to time to enforce and protect Neuren's rights. Such litigation can be costly and could have adverse effects on its activities, business, operating results and financial position. It is possible that other parties may assert intellectual property infringement, unfair competition or like claims against Neuren under copyright, trade secret, patent or other laws. While Neuren is not aware of any claims of this nature in relation to any of the intellectual property rights in which it has interests, such claims, if made, may harm, directly and indirectly, its business. If Neuren is forced to defend against claims of intellectual property infringement, whether they are with or without merit or are determined in its favour, it might face costly litigation and diversion of management's attention. As a result of such disputes, Neuren may have to develop non-infringing technology or enter into royalty or licensing agreements. Such agreements, if necessary, may be unavailable on terms acceptable to Neuren, or at all. If there is a successful claim of intellectual property infringement or unfair competition against Neuren and it is unable to develop non-infringing technology or license the infringed or similar technology or content on a timely basis, it could harm Neuren's business, operations and financial condition.

- Technological Development – Neuren's future success will depend in no small part on its ability to develop products that are able to compete in a global marketplace. No assurance can be given that the research and development activities will lead to the development of such products.
- Competition – Neuren's current and potential future competitors might include companies with significantly greater resources than those possessed by the Company. These competitors may develop products or services that are more effective and/or cheaper than those being developed by Neuren, and as a consequence its products or services may become uncompetitive, resulting in adverse effects on revenue, margins and profitability.
- Product Development – There are many risks inherent in the development of biotechnology products. They can be subject to many failures during manufacturing and clinical trials or may fail to achieve sufficient robustness and reliability. Neuren cannot guarantee that the development work being undertaken or the milestones sought will result in the development of any products, or even if they do, that those products will be commercially successful.
- Sufficiency of Funding – Neuren has a business plan which will require a high level of expenditure until product revenue streams are established and therefore it expects to continue to incur additional net losses until then. In the future, Neuren will need to raise further financing through other public or private equity financings, collaborations or other arrangements with corporate or governmental sources, or other sources of financing to fund operations and achieve milestones. There can be no assurance that such additional financing, if available, can be obtained on terms reasonable to Neuren. In the event Neuren is unable to raise additional capital, future operations will need to be curtailed or discontinued. The auditor's report on the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2010 contains a "fundamental uncertainty" statement noting that those financial statements do not include any adjustments that would be required to reflect the Company being unable to continue as a going concern as a result of being unable to obtain future financing for development of products and other working capital requirements. If the Company is unable to obtain additional funding it may be unable to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future and adjustments may have to be made to reflect the situation that assets may need to be realised other than in the normal course of business and at amounts which could differ significantly from the amount at which they are currently recorded in the consolidated financial statements. In addition, the Company may have to provide for further liabilities that might arise, and to reclassify non-current assets and liabilities as current assets and liabilities.
- Regulatory Risks – Neuren's operations will require approvals from regulatory authorities which may not be forthcoming or which may not be able to be obtained on acceptable terms. While Neuren has no reason to believe that all requisite approvals will not be forthcoming, investors should be aware that Neuren cannot guarantee that any requisite approvals will be obtained. A failure to obtain any approvals would mean that Neuren's ability to develop or operate any project may be limited or restricted either in part or absolutely.
- Risk as to Profitability – Neuren's ability to pay dividends will depend on it generating revenue and then deriving sufficient after-tax profits to be able to do so. Neuren is not presently profitable and it may not at any time be so.
- No Valuation – No formal or informal valuation has been completed of our intellectual property or assets. The Directors make no representation as to the value of the Company's intellectual property or assets.
- Risks Related to Liquidity – Neuren's Existing Shares quoted on the ASX have limited liquidity. Accordingly, if Neuren successfully applies for quotation on the ASX of the New Shares, there can be no assurance that investors will have sufficient liquidity to sell their Shares through the ASX on a timely basis, at an acceptable price, or at all. As a result of the foregoing, investors may be forced to sell any New Shares acquired in connection with this offering for less than anticipated or even at a loss, or hold their New Shares for longer than anticipated.
- Generally – The possibility exists that, for a wide range of reasons, Neuren's present strategies, plans, policies, intentions and expectations may not be able to be implemented.

Your liability and consequences of insolvency

The New Shares allotted under this Offer will be issued fully paid and you will have no liability to Neuren for any further payment in respect of the New Shares.

If the Company becomes insolvent, you would have no obligation to pay any more money to the Company or any other person. Claims on assets of the Company, in the event of the Company being put into liquidation or wound up, that rank ahead of the claims of shareholders in the Company are:

- all creditors of the Company, both secured and unsecured; and
- those claims given priority by legislation such as claims for liquidation costs, employees' wages and taxes.

After all such claims have been made and paid, any remaining assets will be available for distributions to the Company's Shareholders who will rank equally among themselves. It is reasonably foreseeable that, on termination of your Shares as a consequence of the Company being put into liquidation, you will have received, in total, less than the amount you have paid for the Shares.

Can the investment be altered?

The full terms of this Offer are set out in this Investment Statement and Prospectus. Those terms may be altered by the Company by an amendment to this Investment Statement and Prospectus, details of which must be filed with the Registrar of Financial Service Providers. However, those terms cannot be altered without your consent once your application for New Shares has been accepted.

The rights attaching to the New Shares are set out under the heading "What sort of investment is this?" above and in the section headed "Description of Shares" on pages 25 to 27 of this Investment Statement and Prospectus.

The rights conferred on the Company's Shareholders are set out in the Companies Act and the Constitution, and also the applicable Listing Rules of the ASX. Shareholders' rights may be negated, altered or added to by an amendment of the Constitution, which may be made by a special resolution of Shareholders. A special resolution requires the approval of 75% of the votes cast of shareholders affected by the relevant matter, to be valid.

Neuren may not take any action which would affect the rights of Shareholders without approval by special resolution of those Shareholders whose rights would be affected by the action in question.

Certain major transactions and those that would change the nature of the Company's business also require the approval of a special resolution.

How do I cash in my investment?

Except as otherwise prescribed by law, you have no right to receive back from the Company the amount subscribed for the New Shares offered under this Investment Statement and Prospectus, except in circumstances where the Company is being wound up, or in circumstances where the Company seeks to buy back its own Shares.

The Rights are Renounceable and it is intended that the Rights will be quoted on the ASX during the period of 21 June to 7 July 2011. Accordingly, you may seek to sell your Rights through ASX. It is not certain however that you will be able to sell your Rights. This will depend on the volume of Rights offered for sale and purchase and the price at which you are seeking to sell your Rights.

If you wish to sell some or all of your Rights, you should contact your broker to sell the number of Rights you wish to renounce. Sales of Rights through a broker will attract brokerage at the rates charged by that broker.

A shareholder of New Shares is entitled to sell or transfer their shares to another person by private agreement or on the ASX, subject to compliance with the Constitution and any applicable laws. In the opinion of the Company there is an established market for Neuren's ordinary shares on the ASX. Following acceptance for quotation by ASX Limited, the New Shares, like the Existing Shares, may be sold or transferred by the holder at any time on the ASX.

Sales of Shares through a broker will attract brokerage at the rates charged by that broker. The Company does not charge fees for registering on-market share transfers.

DESCRIPTION OF SHARES

The Shares are fully paid ordinary shares and are all of the same class and rank equally in every respect. Set out below is a summary of some of the principal rights of Shareholders pursuant to the Constitution. It does not purport to constitute an exhaustive or definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of the Shareholders. Investors are accordingly encouraged to inspect the Constitution.

The rights and liabilities attaching to the Shares are also regulated by the New Zealand Companies Act, the general law and the Listing Rules of the ASX.

Meetings of Shareholders

Each Shareholder is entitled to receive a notice of and attend and vote at general meetings of the Company and to receive all notices, reports and financial statements required to be sent to Shareholders under the Constitution, the Companies Act, the Listing Rules or other requirements.

The Company may serve a notice on the Shareholder either personally, by sending it by post addressed to the Shareholder's registered address or to the Shareholder's email address.

Voting Rights

At a general meeting, subject to any special privileges or restrictions as to voting for the time being attached to any special class of shares, on a show of hands every Shareholder present in person or by proxy has one vote. On a poll, each Shareholder present in person or by proxy will have one vote for every Share which that Shareholder holds or represents. No Shareholder will be entitled, in respect of Shares held by that Shareholder, to exercise voting rights or to form part of any quorum by virtue of his or her holding such Shares if any call or other sum presently payable by that member to the Company in respect of such Shares remains unpaid.

Subject to the Companies Act, the general law and the Listing Rules, in the case of equality of votes, whether on a show of hands by voice or on a poll, the Chairman of that Shareholders' meeting is not entitled to a second or casting vote.

Dividend Rights

The Directors, in accordance with the Companies Act, may declare dividends.

Unless and to the extent that the rights attached to any shares or the terms of issue thereof otherwise provide, all dividends will (as regards any Shares not fully paid throughout the period in respect of which the dividend is paid) be apportioned and paid pro rata according to the amount paid on the Shares during any portion or portions of the period in respect of which the dividend is paid. For this purpose, no amount paid on a Share in advance of calls will be treated as paid on the share.

Transfer of Shares

Shares may be transferred electronically (by an electronic transfer system approved by any statute of New Zealand) or by instrument in a form as approved by the Directors and any stock exchange upon which the Company may be listed.

There will be no restriction on the transfer of Shares except where:

- required by law or the listing rules of any stock exchange upon which the Shares may be listed; or
- where the Board in its discretion granted by the Constitution refuses to transfer the Shares.

Issue of Further Shares

Subject to the Companies Act, the Listing Rules and any special rights previously conferred on the holders of any existing shares or class of shares, the Directors may issue shares at any time without the prior approval of the Company in a general meeting, to any persons on such terms and conditions and for such consideration and at such time and on such payment terms as the Directors may think fit.

Any shares may be issued in such denomination or with such preferential, deferred, qualified or special rights, privileges, conditions or restrictions or limitations including as to distributions, voting rights and ranking as the Directors may think fit.

Variation of Rights

The issue of shares ranking equally with or in priority to any existing shares will not affect the rights of the existing shares unless specifically provided for in the terms of issue of those existing shares.

Winding Up

If the Company is wound up (whether the liquidation is voluntary, under supervision, or by the court) the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution or any other sanction required by the Companies Act, divide among the members in kind the whole or any part of the assets of the Company and whether or not the assets will consist of property of the same or different kinds, and may for such purpose set such value as the liquidator deems fair upon any of the property to be divided as aforesaid and may determine how such division will be carried out as between the members or different classes of members.

The liquidator may, with the approval of the Company by special resolution, vest the whole or any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of members as the liquidator with the approval of the Company by special resolution will think fit, and the Company dissolved, but so that no contributory will be compelled to accept any shares or other property in respect of which there is a liability.

Share Buy Backs

The Company may buy Shares in itself on the terms and at the times determined by the Board, to extent and in the manner permitted by the listing rules of any stock exchange upon which the shares of the Company may be listed and the Companies Act.

Compliance with ASX Listing Rules

The Constitution was amended on 4 October 2004 to incorporate Appendix 15A of the Listing Rules of the ASX. Accordingly, the following applies:

- Notwithstanding anything contained in the Constitution, if the Listing Rules prohibit an act being done, the act shall not be done.
- Nothing contained in the Constitution prevents an act being done that the Listing Rules require to be done.
- If the Listing Rules require an act to be done or not to be done, authority is given for that act to be done or not to be done (as the case may be).
- If the Listing Rules require the Constitution to contain a provision and it does not contain such a provision, the Constitution is deemed to contain that provision.
- If the Listing Rules require the Constitution not to contain a provision and it contains such a provision the Constitution is deemed not to contain that provision.
- If any provision of the Constitution is or becomes inconsistent with the Listing Rules, the Constitution is deemed not to contain that provision to the extent of the inconsistency.

Alteration of Constitution

The Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution passed by at least 75% of the votes cast by Shareholders present and voting at the general meeting. At least 10 business days' written notice specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution must be given.

Number of Directors

The number of Directors, other than alternate directors, will not be less than 3 or more than 9 or such other number as is fixed by an ordinary resolution of the Company. At least 2 Directors of the Company must be ordinarily resident in New Zealand.

Appointment and Removal of Directors

Subject to the Constitution, the Board or the Company by ordinary resolution may appoint any person as a Director either to fill a casual vacancy or as an additional Director.

The Listing Rules require that the Company hold an election of Directors by ordinary resolution each year. The Directors, other than a managing director, must not hold office (without re-election) past the third annual meeting of Shareholders following the Director's appointment or 3 years, whichever is longer. However, a Director appointed to fill a casual vacancy or as an addition to the Board must not hold office (without re-election) past the next annual meeting of Shareholders.

The Company may by ordinary resolution, subject to the Constitution, from time to time remove any Director before the expiration of his or her period of office and appoint another person in their place.

DIRECTORS' STATEMENT

The Directors of Neuren, after due enquiry by them in relation to the period between 31 December 2010 and the date of registration of this Investment Statement and Prospectus, are of the opinion that no circumstance has arisen that materially adversely affects Neuren's trading or profitability or the value of its assets or its ability to pay its liabilities due within the next twelve months.

This Investment Statement and Prospectus has been signed by each Director of the Company or by their agent authorised in writing.
